HOME WEDDING FOR MISS BLACK

Becomes Bride of Lieut. Stephen Abbott, U.S. A., This Afternoon.

WILL LIVE AT WEST POINT

Only Immediate Members of Families Artend the Pretty Ceremony.

One of the prettiest home weddings known in Washington society was that of Miss Helene Black, daughter of Gen. John C. Black, and Lieut. Stephen Ab-bott, U. S. A., which took place this afternoon at 4:30 in the Black home, on S street. Only the immediate members of the families witnessed the cere mony, which was rollowed half an hour later by a small reception. The spacious suite of drawing rooms and dining room had very original decorations of holly. The second drawing room and the dining had a deep frieze of holly. The stairway was festooned with delicate green, with poinsettia blossoms dotted all through it. The table had a center piece of the brilliant poinsettia.

The front drawing room, where the ceremony was performed, had its walls draped with laurel and dotted with Annunciation lilies. The bay window, where the white satin altar was improvised, was banked with the lilies and studded with silver candles. The whole first floor had the softened lights from candles, no gus or other lights being the same shade. Her daughter, Miss Sessions, wore a dainty white applique lace dress and carried a large bunch of American Beauty roses. Those who served at the table were Mrs. Loring, Mrs. Mary and Mrs. Lewis Smith.

Other assistants were Miss Mary Cooke,
Mrs. Jacobson, Miss Wells, Miss Denny,
Miss Beale, Miss Dribbs, Miss Leutze,
Miss Ryan and Miss Morgan.

performed by the Rev. Teunis S. Hamilin, pastor of the Church of the Covenant.

Assisting at the table were Mrs. Rufus Gillett, of Springfield, Mass., cousin of the bride; Mrs. John Donaldson Black, of Chicago, sister-in-law of the bride; and Mrs. Cole, of Niagara Falls, sister of the bridegroom, who served egg-nog, punch, and mulled caret. The bride and bridegroom were toasted from a loving cup which has been in the Black family for many years.

Lieutenant Abbott and his bride will leave Washington this evening for a short bridal trip, after which they will be at home at West Point, where the former is stationed. General Black has a house party of twenty guests for the wedding.

In geoutantes: Miss Lay, of Virginia, house guest of Miss Lay, of Virginia, house guest of Miss Beale, and Mrs. Newbold, of Philadelphia, also a house guest. The fair debutante wore a dainty princesse gown of white liberty silk over taffet, trimmed with rare old lace, Carrol heir-loom. She carried pink roses are distinctly helpful to their husbands in the world of diplomacy. No woman has shown a more even balance than brocade, strimmed with gold effects. Miss Bladle served the frappe and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid. She is more popular than the wife of any ambassadors to the Court of St. James. A newspaper largely recognized as the society organ of King Edward, says she is particularly gracious to her own country people, and is sensible enough to make fewer distinctions than some other wives in ner position have done.
